Introduction – rationale

At Stanburn Primary School, our Positive Behaviour Policy focuses upon positive interactions with one another and places emphasis on building relationships between children and staff, as well as children and their peers. Underpinning our policy is the belief that everyone can learn to self-regulate their own emotions and behaviour through reflective thinking. Ultimately, we wish to put children's emotional wellbeing at the heart of our policy, giving them confidence about their capacity to think for themselves and to make sense of their own lives and experiences beyond school and into the wider world. We understand that sometimes children need a more structured level of support in understanding that there are consequences to their actions. In these instances, we use a graduated approach which clearly shows children what the consequences could be, whilst also encouraging them that it's not too late to reflect and reset in order to get back on track.

We believe that in order to implement a policy of positive behaviour management effectively, it is essential that there is an ethos of mutual respect that supports our vision and values - Believe Achieve Succeed – Learning without limits.

This policy is designed to be used by all staff for reference and guidance and for parents of pupils at Stanburn Primary School. It is important that all stakeholders in the work of the schools understand the shared vision we have in supporting children's positive behaviours and our methodologies and systems we employ to secure an excellent climate for learning.

Our School Values

We have 3 shared values which underpin our school ethos. These values are explored through classroom discussions, circle time, assemblies etc..The values are displayed in all classrooms and adults and pupils will refer to it as and when needed. Above all, all staff are expected to demonstrate and model these values in action and to explicitly teach how they work and the difference that they make to the world. Our aim is to embed these values in the lives of the pupils at Stanburn through the learning behaviours which help children to achieve these personal values.

Aim of the policy

- To create a culture of exceptionally good behaviour: for learning, for the community, for life
- To ensure that all learners are treated fairly, shown respect and to promote good relationships.
- To refuse to give learners attention and importance for poor conduct
- To help learners take control over their behaviour and be responsible for the consequences of it.
- To build a community which values kindness, care , respect, obedience and empathy for others.
- To promote community cohesion through improved relationships.
- To ensure that excellent behaviour is a minimum expectation for all.

Purpose of the policy

To provide simple, practical procedures for staff and learners that:

- Recognise behavioural norms
- Positively reinforces behavioural norms
- Promote self-esteem and self-discipline
- Teach appropriate behaviour through positive interventions

Promoting good behaviour amongst the pupils is a shared responsibility. Everyone is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct, to accept responsibility for their behaviour and encourage others to do the same. At Stanburn, we are committed to creating an environment where exemplary behaviour is at the heart of productive learning. Behaviour in school is inseparable from academic achievement, safety, welfare and wellbeing, and all other aspects of learning. We always look for positive behaviour first and praise it. We value kindness in our interactions – it influences what we say, how we say it and our expectations of the children. It is possible to be strict and set boundaries at the same time as being warm, kind and caring. We use a tone of voice and body language that are firm but warm. Our communications ensure that children are valued and respected.

Roles and expectations of staff

All staff must share our common expectations and values in order to create the positive learning environment we desire. All staff are role models for our children. This requires consistency, a balance between positive reinforcement and consequences, an understanding of restorative conversation, as well as the quick detection of, and immediate action on issues. Never ignoring or walking past pupils who are not showing expected behaviour. Our aim is to develop children's understanding of what ' Respect, Kindness, Optimism' means. All staff refer to the school values ' Respect, Kindness, Optimism' in all conversations that they have with children- this includes praising children for doing the right thing, or encouraging them to make a better behaviour choice.

All staff:

- Meet and greet learners at the beginning of the day.
- Refer to 'Stanburn School Values' when discussing behaviour.
- Model positive behaviours and build relationships.
- Plan lessons that engage, challenge and meet the needs of all learners
- When speaking about unwanted behaviour, speak in a calm and consistent tone.
- Follow up every time, retain ownership and engage in reflective dialogue with learners.
- Consistently model appropriate behaviour and expectations
- Never ignore or walk past pupils who are not showing expected behaviour.

Middle leaders

Middle leaders are not expected to deal with behaviour referrals in isolation. Rather they are to stand alongside colleagues to support, guide, model and show a unified consistency to the learners.

Middle leaders will:

- Be a visible presence in school to model appropriate behaviour and expectations. Reminding children and staff where necessary.
- Support staff in returning learners to learning. Sometimes sitting in on meetings and supporting staff in conversations.
- Regularly celebrate staff and learners whose efforts go above and beyond expectations.
- Encourage use of Positive Notes, Positive Phone Calls, Positive chats at the end of the day by all staff.

Senior leaders

Senior leaders are not expected to deal with behaviour referrals in isolation. Rather they are to stand alongside colleagues to support, guide, model and show a unified consistency to the learners.

Senior leaders will:

- Be a visible presence around the school, in corridors and shared spaces especially during transitions.
- Celebrate staff, leaders and learners whose effort goes above and beyond expectations.
- Encourage all staff to share positives.
- Regularly share good practice.
- Support middle leaders in managing learners with more complex negative behaviours.
- Use behaviour data to target and assess school wide behaviour policy and practice.
- Regularly review provision for learners who fall beyond the range of written policies.
- Ensure staff training needs are identified and targeted.

Roles and expectations of learners and parents at Stanburn

At Stanburn, we expect that our learners:

- Follow our School Rules
- Show respect to everyone they come into contact with
- Are positive in all aspects of school life
- Show kindness and good-nature, even in the face of adversity
- Are determined to succeed and complete all of their work to a high standard
- Model all school rules and values in every interaction they have

At Stanburn, we believe that positive dialogue between home and school is vital.

Parents are expected to:

- Work in partnership with the school
- Support their child in adhering to the school rules, values and the expectations of positive behaviour and relationships with others
- Ensure that their children fully understand the consequences of negative attitudes and behaviour
- Inform the class teacher of any changes in circumstances, which may affect their child's behaviour.

Behaviour expectations around the school:

The school environment:

Our expectation is that classrooms will be tidy and well organised as this has a positive impact on behaviour. All of us should be proud of school environment. It is the responsibility of adults and children alike to maintain our school by looking after the resources and displays.

Signal:

To support us in being more consistent in our approach to gaining all pupils attention, we will use the chime to gain the children's attention when in class, in assembly and in the hall. This is used by all adults across the school.

Arriving at school:

- The school gates open at 8.25am.
- 1 member of staff must be on each playground.
- Children come into the school building and go into class at 8.35am.
- The expected attendance rate for each child is 97%
- Children walk on the left.
- Staff members deployed on all the school entrances to welcome children.
- Teachers to greet children at the classroom door.

Assembly:

- All children should be in a line and settled before moving off.
- Children should walk from their classrooms to the Assembly hall in silence.
- Children should walk in and sit down in their class line.
- If there are certain children that may need support throughout the assembly due to being unsettled, struggle in this larger environment or happen to end up near a child that could be a distraction, try and pre-empt this and 'check in' with the child and move them if necessary before the assembly starts.
- Behaviour management within assembly is the responsibility of all adults in the hall, not just the adult leading the assembly.
- All adults must scan their class and those around them often to ensure children are doing what they should be.
- Class teachers are responsible for ensuring that sufficient supervision is available for their class during Assemblies. This might be in the form of support staff or the class teacher.

Lining up after break and lunch:

- Staff must be out in the playground ready to 'receive' their class when the bell goes after break. At lunch time staff from Reception, Year 1 and Year 2 must 'receive' their children and bring them into class.
- Staff must model and remind children of the expectations.
- Staff are to support children walking to their lines.
- Check that the children are lined up as they should be, settled and ready to move into the building.
- Start to send the children in, walk alongside the line near the front while observing the rest of the line.
- Children should move in a single file line and walk on the left with their voices off.
- Instruct the child leading the line to move forward to a certain point.
- The adult should be able to see most of the line, or have checked the line before moving on.
- If two adults are with the class, each adult 'covers' half the line.
- Teacher/adult to stay at the door of the classroom until all children are in the classroom.

End of break and lunch:

Teachers will be outside in good time to collect their class.

The bell is rung for the end of play. Adults pause and insist on children being still. Before the second bell is rung, the adults remind the children to walk to their lines. Second bell is rung. Children walk quickly and quietly, to their line, showing they are ready for learning. Adults in the playground set the expectation. Adults walk up and down their class lines to make sure everyone is ready to go into school for learning.

The lunch hall:

- Children should line up quietly, be polite when receiving their meal and follow any directions of the adults in charge.
- After the meal, children should clear their eating area, check that they haven't dropped any rubbish.
- Then leave the dining area quietly and walk to the playground.

The playground:

At Stanburn, we do not distinguish between the authority of one adult to another, regardless of role. During all breaktimes, children are expected to respect the authority of the adults on duty in the same way that they would with the teaching staff. All children should feel safe outside and must be made aware of the playground rules and the importance of informing an adult on duty if unwanted behaviour has occurred. The adults on duty are responsible for ensuring that the playground rules are being adhered to and that any incidents are being properly dealt with through the discussion of which rule isn't being followed. A reminder may be needed in the first instance. The adult makes the child aware of their behaviour and asks them to 'reflect and reset'. The child has a choice to do the right thing. If they need to, they can sit quietly on a bench to 'cool off' if they need to.

We listen to pupils and take notice of the pupils' interactions, engaging them in positive interactions and building relationships as well as having fun as we recognise that building positive relationships promote outstanding behaviour.

If the behaviour persists a restorative conversation needs to take place at this point.

The Restorative Five. Choose your five

- What happened?
- What were you thinking at the time?
- What have you thought since?
- How did this make people feel?
- Who has been affected?
- How have they been affected?
- What should we do to out things right?

The adult involved then informs the class teacher at the end of break and the appropriate behaviour STEP is applied. Serious behaviour incident will be logged on to CPOMS at the end of the day.

Promoting Good Behaviour: catching children getting it right

At Stanburn , we believe it is essential that we create an environment in which all children and staff feel they belong and feel safe. This requires establishing appropriate learning-focused relationships where expectations are high, and everyone knows the routines and boundaries. Affirmation of 'doing the right thing in the right way' is important and children are rewarded in a range of ways for their attitude and learning behaviours. The use of praise in developing a positive atmosphere in the classroom cannot be underestimated. It is the key to developing positive relationships. We recognise and reward learners who go 'over and above' our standards. Staff at Stanburn understand that a quiet word of personal praise can be as effective as a larger, more public, reward. We make a point of communicating positive news with parents in a number of ways e.g through Dojo or a quick word at handover. Here are some of the ways that we highlight good behaviour:

Dojo Points

Merit Awards

Student of the Month

Value of the half term

Model Pupil Award (Every term)

Behaviour in the classroom

Engagement with learning is always the primary aim. For the vast majority of learners, a gentle reminder or nudge in the right direction is all that is needed. Although there are occasions when it is necessary, every minute a learner is out of your lesson is one where they are not learning. Steps should always be gone through with care and consideration, taking individual needs into account where necessary. Praise the behaviour you want to see. All learners must be given time to 'reset' in between steps. It is not possible to leap or accelerate steps for repeated low-level disruption.

When behaviour does not meet our expectations

Despite good practice and the modelling of positive behaviour by staff, unacceptable behaviour may still occur. This needs to be seen within the context of the individual child and responded to accordingly. Learners are held responsible for their behaviour. Staff will deal with behaviour without delegating. Staff will use the steps in behaviour for dealing with poor conduct.

Teachers have statutory authority to discipline pupils whose behaviour is unacceptable, who break school rules or who fail to follow a reasonable instruction (Section 90 and 91 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006).

Visual reminders

Consequences/Sanctions

Appendix 1 sets out consequences/sanctions for unacceptable behaviour.

Our STEPS framework for behaviour management focusses on encouraging children to take ownership for their behaviour and actions. Our school discourages unacceptable behaviour by:

- sharing and consistently following the whole school STEPS
- being clear and explicit about what is unacceptable
- using reflection sheets and restorative questions to help children understand the choices that they have made
- using principles of growth mindset when discussing behaviour with pupils and encouraging them to apply themselves
- being preventative and proactive in our approaches to effectively support pupils with social and emotional needs
- Behaviour Support Plans and Risk Assessments alongside parents/carers for pupils who require additional support and reviewing them systematically
- using clear monitoring and recording systems which fully involve our parents/carers:

SLT and Year Leaders will closely monitor Step 4 consequences alongside the class teacher. Meetings will be arranged with parents if a child's behaviour continues to decline. The meetings are an opportunity for school and home to co-construct support that will help the child to make better choices with their behaviour. Shared strategies will be applied at home and school and monitored with the parent for a period of 4 weeks. If there is no improvement, a 'Behaviour Support Plan' (Appendix 4) will be initiated. The plan will be co-constructed with staff, parents and pupil and monitored over a period of 4 weeks.

Behaviour lead will closely monitor the pupils on Behaviour Support Plans. If a child's behaviour continues to decline once placed on a Behaviour Support Plan then further support will be discussed. At this stage we will seek active support from external agencies.

Behaviour on Trips

Our expectations on school trips are the same as in the classroom: we expect all children, adults and visitors to adhere to our behaviour STEPS. Staff members are aware that the change in environment and routine can affect children differently. Staff therefore ensure that children are fully briefed on the day ahead before leaving school, whilst continuing to remind them of our School Rules.

CPOMS

We use CPOMS to record all behaviour incidents. We use it to record all meetings/contact we have with outside agencies and specific meetings with parents/carers. All adults in school have been trained to use CPOMS.

Staff are responsible for completing CPOMS in regards to behaviours as well as recording any meetings or conversations or phone calls (eg, parents or outside agencies).

SEN Support

Children receiving support for a special educational need (e.g. those with an Education Healthcare Plan), may present behaviour which needs to be dealt with outside this behaviour policy. In these instances, approaches and support will be discussed and agreed with all relevant parties, including the SENCO, class teacher, supporting teaching assistants, specialists and parents.

It is important to note that persistent, severe and/or disengaged behaviour does not necessarily mean a pupil has a special educational need. Where concerns arise, there should be an assessment to determine causal factors such as undiagnosed learning, communication or mental health issues. A multi-agency approach will be taken involving parents and other agencies to ensure pupils can continue to meet our high expectations so that they may remain within a mainstream school environment.

Suspensions

(Suspension and permanent exclusion policy can be found on the school website)

At Stanburn we believe that no one person has the right to prevent children from learning and teachers from teaching. If a child exhibits any of the serious behaviour on the previous page, or behaves in a way which seriously undermines others' right to learn and be safe, then they may need to be excluded from school for a short period of time. The length of the suspension is the decision of the headteacher, or any member of the SLT in the absence of the headteacher.

In these instances, parents will be called immediately to collect their child from school. The parents will be given work for the child to complete during the period of the suspension. On the child's return to school there will be a re-integration meeting, with the child, parents, class teacher and the adult who dealt with the situation causing the suspension.

Internal suspensions

Each Serious Incident is dealt with on a case by case basis. The consequence of the incident is decided by the Senior Leadership Team. In cases of internal suspensions, the parents of the child will be informed of the incident and the outcomes. An internal suspension means the child/children is still in school, but they are learning away from their class.

Every child will still have break and lunch times. These will be with the member of the Senior Leadership Team who is supervising the child, and they might take place at different times than usual.

Permanent Exclusion

On some occasions, and if all other avenues of support have been exhausted, a child may ultimately be excluded permanently from Stanburn.

In these instances, we will follow all local and national guidance. This guidance stipulates that a decision to exclude a pupil permanently should be taken:

- In response to a serious breach, or persistent breaches, of the school's behaviour policy;
- Where allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school

The decision on whether to exclude permanently is for a headteacher to take, however there is an appeals process should parents disagree with this decision. Please refer to the Suspensions and Permanent Exclusions Policy.

Reasonable Force

All members of staff are aware of the regulations regarding the use of force by teachers, as set out in the DfE Circular July 2013: The Use of Reasonable Force. The staff understand that 'reasonable force' means having physical contact with a child using no more force that is needed. Staff will only intervene physically to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property, or from causing disorder. The actions that we take are in line with government guidelines on using reasonable force. The following list is not exhaustive but provides some examples of situations where reasonable force can be used.

Members of staff can use reasonable force to:

- remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event, trip or visit;
- prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
- prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
- restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.

Please refer to the Department for Education document 'Use of Reasonable Force' – Advice for Head Teachers, Staff and Governing Bodies which sets out guidance on the use of 'reasonable force'.

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/use-of-reasonable-force-in-schools>

Bullying and Peer on Peer Abuse

The government defines bullying as:

Behaviour by an individual or group usually repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally.

Bullying is the use of an aggressive behaviour with the intention of hurting another person and results in pain and/or distress to the victim.

Bullying is not always easy to define. It is, however, always persistent and can include:

Emotional: being unfriendly, exclusion of others, tormenting (e.g. hiding books, making threatening gestures).

Physical: pushing, kicking, hitting, punching or any kind of violent behaviour.

Racist: racial taunts, gestures, graffiti.

Sexual: unwanted physical contact or sexually abusive comments.

Homophobic: because of, or focusing on the issue of sexuality.

Verbal: name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing.

Cyber: all areas of internet, such as email and internet and chat room misuse.

Mobile threats by text messaging and calls, and sexting. Misuse of associated technology, i.e. camera and video technology.

At Stanburn Primary School bullying of any kind will not be tolerated and the school will:

- Remind children to report incidents as soon as they occur;
- Take the problem seriously;
- Investigate the incident;
- Interview bullies and victims separately;
- Interview any witnesses;
- Decide on appropriate action such as:
  - Obtain an apology from bully/ies to victim;
  - Impose sanctions outlined in appendix 1 but note may include a suspension or permanent exclusion;
  - Inform parents/carers;
  - Hold lessons/class discussions/assemblies about bullying;
  - Log information on CPOMS;
  - Inform all members of staff of action taken.

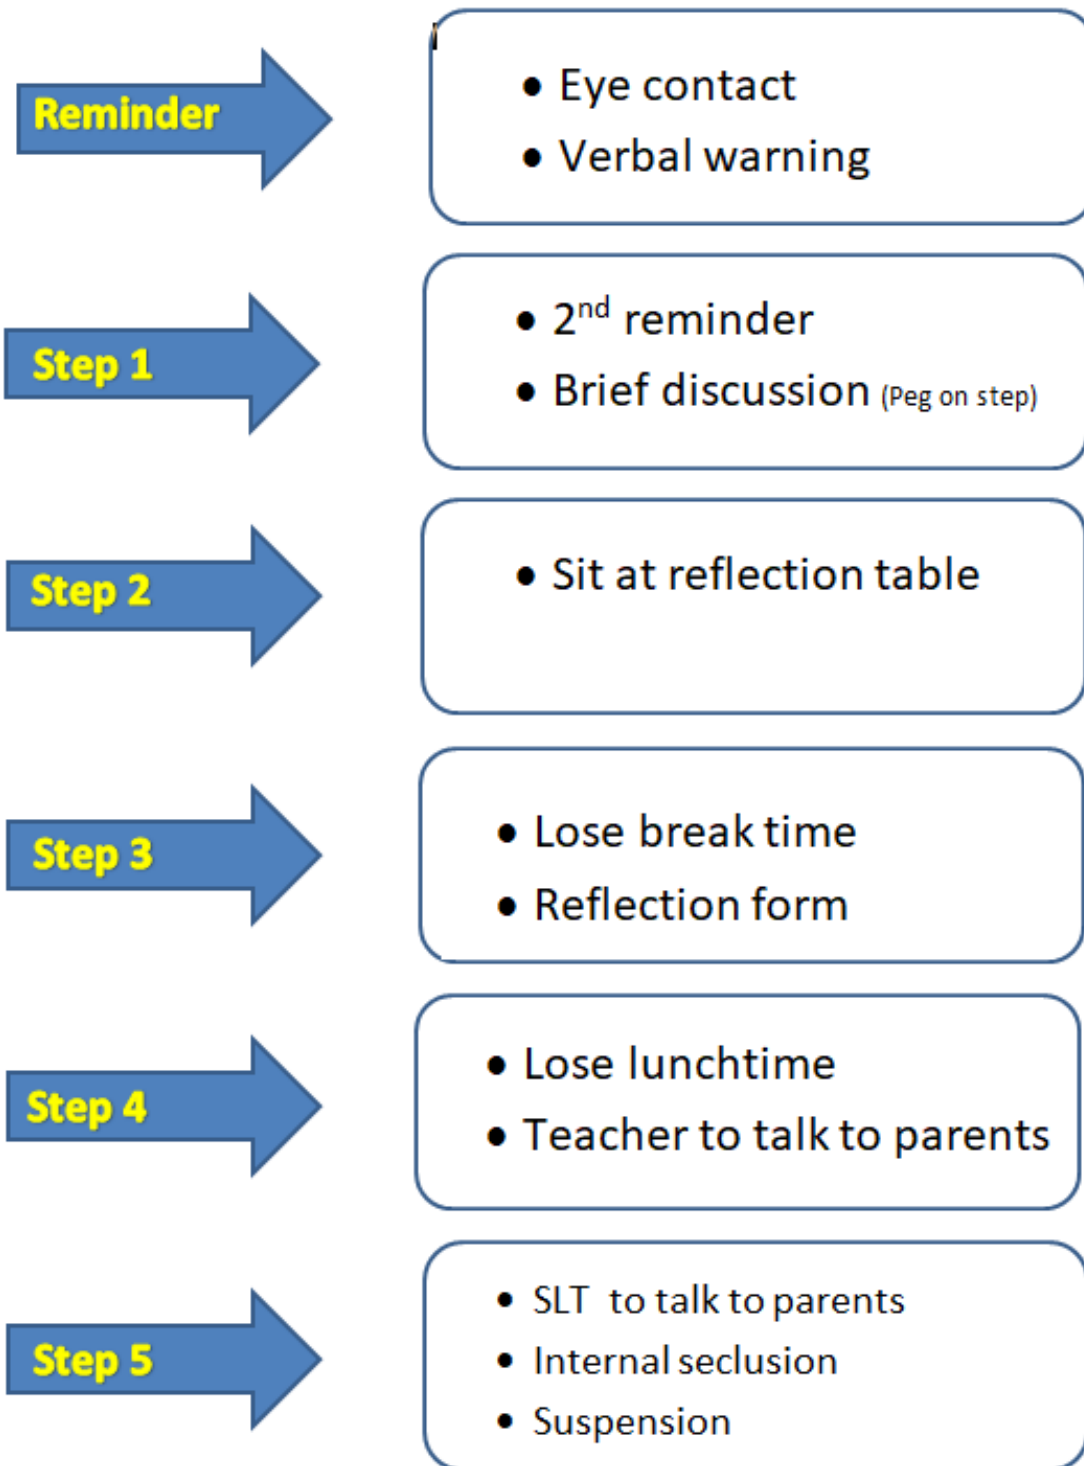

Allegations of peer on peer abuse will be dealt with in line with the Stanburn Safeguarding Manual and Keeping Children Safe in Education (September 2023)

Review of Policy and Procedures

Stanburn carries out a yearly review of this Policy, led by the Headteacher. This includes an evaluation of the extent to which this policy has been effectively implemented throughout the school. The Governors will remedy any deficiencies or weaknesses in addressing issues without delay and without waiting for the next policy review date, should any be necessary.

Step 3

Step 4

Step 5

Consequences/Sanctions
Initial Warning (Reminder)	Use of 'low key' initial warnings: eye contact, moving nearer to a child, etc.... Following the principle of least intrusive to most intrusive.
Follow Up Warning (Step 1)	Reminder of expected behaviour (What should you be doing?), brief discussion of disrespectful behaviour (impact on individual/others), praise will be given if the child is able to model good behaviour as a result of this warning.
Time out in own class – Reflect and Reset (Step 2)	The child is asked to sit away from other children (5 mins; 10 mins; whole session). At the end of the lesson the teacher or a member of support staff will discuss events with the child (It's important that this conversation is with the adult who issued the consequence).
Lose break time (Step 3)	The child loses break time (5minutes; 10 minutes). At the end of the lesson the teacher or a member of support staff will discuss events with the child. The child may be asked to reflect on the reasons why they have been asked to stay in and complete a reflection form. Teacher to log this in Behaviour log STEP 3
SLT involved (Step 4)	A child may miss some minutes; part; whole session of lunch time. Class teacher to talk to parents at the end of the day. Teacher to log this in Behaviour log STEP 4
Time out with a Senior Leader (AHT, DHT, HT) (Step 5)	If disrespectful behaviour warrants removal from the classroom because of repeated or severe disruption to other children's learning or a serious incident then a message is sent to a Senior Leader who will attend immediately to remove the child. This may result in a more serious follow-up consequence in addition. SLT to invite parents for a meeting.
Internal Seclusion	Child will be secluded from the class for part of the day/days.
Suspension (Step 5)	The head teacher has the power to decide whether to suspend a pupil, whether for a fixed term or permanently, in line with the legal requirements on the use of suspension. These may be as follows and will always be extreme/severe cases of:
	Verbal abuse (including racist, sexist or extremist comments)	1 day
	Physical assault	2 days
	Biting	2 days
	Serious bullying	3 days
	Destruction of property	1-5 days
	Serious lack of respect for members of staff	1-5 days
	Persistent refusal to obey instructions	1-5 days
	Bringing illegal substances into school	1-5 days

Where a child is excluded, his/her parents have the right to make representations to the governing body (or discipline committee) about it and the governing body must review the suspension decision in certain circumstances, which includes all permanent exclusions.

Each incident will be looked at separately and action taken as deemed appropriate for the circumstances. Following a suspension (fixed term exclusion) students will only be readmitted to school following a meeting with parents and Assistant Head teacher/Deputy Head teacher/ Head teacher (the make-up of the meeting will depend on the student's behaviour history and the nature of the incident). All students will be monitored for the next two weeks upon their return.

Appendix 2 –Routine

Rules are supported by routines which enable the smooth running of the school / classroom:

- Lining up and entry to the classroom;
- Walking on the left hand side through the school;
- Visual timetables displayed;
- Seating plans and pupil groupings;
- Distracting disruptive behaviour;
- Routines and cues for transitions both in class, between lessons and around the school
- Expected behaviour for learning in the classroom
- Noise levels.
- We establish routines for pupils but equally important for adults:
- Well organised classroom – accessible resources
- High quality displays / working walls to support learning
- Good planning and teaching for ALL pupils
- Well prepared lessons – resources
- The better and more consistent your rules and routines and teaching are, the better the behaviour will be.

Afterschool Club Consequences/Sanctions
Initial Warning (Reminder)	Use of 'low key' initial warnings: eye contact, moving nearer to a child, etc.... Following the principle of least intrusive to most intrusive.
Follow Up Warning (Step 1)	Reminder of expected behaviour (What should you be doing?), brief discussion of disrespectful behaviour (impact on individual/others), praise will be given if the child is able to model good behaviour as a result of this warning.
Time out –Reflect and Reset (Step 2)	The child is asked to sit away from other children –and reflect on the choices that they have made (5 mins; 10 mins; part of a session). At the end of the session a member of support staff will discuss events with the child (It's important that this conversation is with the adult who issued the consequence). The child will then be given the opportunity to 'reflect and reset'.
Lose Activity time (Step 3)	The child loses activity time (5minutes; 10 minutes; part of a session). At the end of the session the member of staff will discuss events with the child and then talk to parents at the end of the day.
SLT involved (Step 4)	If disrespectful behaviour warrants removal from the room/hall because of repeated or severe disruption or a serious incident then the child will immediately be removed and spend the remainder of the day with the SLT on duty in their office. The Senior Leader, on duty that day, will contact the parents and inform them of the incident. (Incident will be logged on CPOMS). Parents will be informed that if disrespectful behaviour continues then this may lead to a more serious follow up consequences (suspension from afterschool club).
Suspension from Afterschool club (Step 5)	If there are two STEP 4 incidents in a week or 3 incidents in a half term, then this may result in a more serious follow-up consequence where the child will be suspended from afterschool club till the end of that half term/term. The senior leader will contact the parents/carers and inform them of the incident(s) and the decision to suspend the child from afterschool club till the end of that half term.

*A child who is on a STEP 5 in school during the day (an internal seclusion) will be allowed to attend afterschool club. They will have the opportunity to 'reset'. However if they demonstrate unacceptable behaviour in Afterschool Club then they will immediately be placed on STEP 4 of the Afterschool behaviour Policy and this will be counted as the first STEP 4 incident for that half term.
