

PUPILS PARLIAMENT UPDATES

May 2025

This month, the PuPs were given the task of researching what new clubs pupils across the school would like to see introduced. To gather ideas, they spoke to classmates, conducted informal surveys, and held discussions during break and lunchtime. They listened carefully to feedback from children in all year groups and collected a wide range of suggestions.

After gathering all the suggestions, the PuPs met to review the results and identify which clubs were most in demand. They also considered which ideas would be realistic to organise based on staff availability, resources, and timetabling.

They are now working closely with Miss Crane to explore which clubs could be introduced from next year, aiming to offer a broader and more inclusive range of extracurricular opportunities for all pupils.

This project has been a brilliant example of pupil voice in action. The PuPs have shown excellent communication, leadership, and teamwork skills throughout the process. It's been inspiring to see them take such an active role in shaping school life for the better.
